HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 1st, 1888.

A short time ago a paragraph appeared in the home papers about the establishment of a kingdom in the country beyond Appam by a Frenchman of the pame of MAYRENA. In a recent number of the Courrier d'Haiphong we find a letter from M. DE MAYRENA giving a full account of this interesting movement. On arriving at the Catholic religion is to be the official Quinhon to deposit at the Residency the one. All nien capable of bearing arms are Trafalgar-square, London, is approaching comofficial documents connected with the estate lishment of the new kingdom M. In February, 1888, we are informed. much to our surprise, a Prussian mission wished to penetrate to the territory of the independent peoples of Indo-China and hoist the Prussian flag. But M. Constans was wary politician, and without refusing any thing be granted nothing. The mission then addressed itself to Siam, where it obtainescort and left for Battambang, MAYRENA requested to be allowed to forestall the mission and "cut it out." but M. Constant refused to give him any official countenance; be, however, al-- lowed him to go at his own risk, and gave him assistance without appearing to do so. M. DE MAYEENA then left with one European and twenty volunteers (natives, we presume) whom he had enrolled. Arrived amongst the missionaries provided with a letter from His Lordship the Bishop of Quinhon, they placed themselves at his disposition sand he found in them valuable and devoted auxiliaries. Accompanied by the Rev. Fa. ther Guentace and the Mois "Banhars Renugaos"-native chiefs, apparently-he advanced beyond the mission. The country they traversed was unknown. M. The question of diminishing the consumption of spirits is being seriously discussed in Brassels. In place of the decision of the judged who may err sometimes, it is proposed to accept the unfailing dictum of the camera. For this phrose six cameras are to be placed in line at the winning-post, a few feet apart, and directed towards the race-course, which may be exposed simpltaneously by the agency of electricity. As Book as the leading horse reaches the first camera all/the cameras are exposed. The plates may be developed in from two to three minutes, and the result will unmistakably show which horse is the actual winner.

Of the invention of "oures" there is, apparently, no end. We are accustomed to homosopathy and to hydropathy. Pelopathy, or treatment by means of mud baths, is not quite so familiar. The experiments that were made with the new magazine rifle at Aldershot recently appear to have been decidedly satisfactory. Whether this weapon really is "the best rifle in existence" cannot yet be as ertained; but now that a good form of cartridge has been devised, warranted not to jam and always to go off when required, much may be hoped for from it. The targets consisted of dommios arranged in ranks at 2,000, 2,400, and 2,800 yards respectively, and the percentage of hits was 48 in the first case, 29 in the second, and 16 in the third. There is something very cerie about this long distance shooting. When a man who probably can only just be seen by a glass can be shot at a distance of a mile and a half with a rifle bullet war is indeed becoming scientific. The penetrating power of the new bullet seems to be very dreadful; and it is likely that in future wars there will be a much increased proportion of deadly wounds.

POST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been missent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addressee need do is to note on the cover, Sent to --- or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, Postmaster General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end. The Postal Guide for 1887, revised to date will be found in the Daily Press Directory. p. 385 large edition, p. 701 small edition. This is the only authorised complete Summary of Postal information published in Hongkong.
